

ANDRZEJ KUKURYK

FRONTEND DEVELOPER

A career spanning over a decade, aligned with my education as a professional musician, guitar instructor, and entrepreneur, was interrupted by the pandemic. Since then, initially on my own and later under the guidance of a mentor, I've been acquiring the skills to become a frontend developer. My previous profession has taught me how to communicate with people and has developed my creativity. It demanded patience, diligence, and meeting deadlines. Now I am prepared to acquire new skills and experiences that will satisfy my need for personal growth.
